

Agenda
DWR Winter Outlook Workshop
November 12-13, 2015
Scripps Institution of Oceanography
Martin Johnson House

Thursday November 12th

- 1:00 Welcome, introductions, & opening remarks
Jeanine Jones, DWR
Marty Ralph, Scripps

- 1:15 Workshop purpose & goals, relationship to programmatic efforts to advance S2S precipitation forecasting
Jeanine Jones

- 1:45 State of the climate
Mike Anderson, DWR

- 2:30 El Niño and coastal flooding
Dan Cayan, Scripps

- 3:00 Break

- 3:15 Coastal SST warmth & storm energy prior to landfall
Marty Ralph

- 3:45 Update on Scripps' work on atmospheric rivers:
Event compilation & intensity measures, Marty Ralph
Concepts for seasonal outlooks, Sasha Gershunov, Scripps

- 4:30 Adjourn

Friday November 13th

- 8:30 Atmospheric river storms portal
Jason Cordeira, Plymouth State University (by phone)

- 9:00 Analog years data set and statistical/dynamical S2S precip model
Shahrbanou Madagar, UC Irvine

- 9:30 Opportunities for improving prediction of warm season precipitation in the Southwest
Marty Ralph
- 10:00 Break
- 10:15 Experimental forecast for winter 2015-16, California and Colorado River Basin, forecast discussion, & statistical modeling opportunities
Klaus Wolter, CIRES
- 11:15 El Niño – prediction and outcomes
David Pierce, Scripps & Mike Dettinger, USGS
- 11:45 Next steps, where do we go from here?
Moving data products to DWR's CDEC website
Publications
Advisory committees
Other
- 12:45 Adjourn